

Civisti Policy Workshop, 24th of January 2011 Programme

14:00-15:30 First session: CIVISTI recommendations for future science and technology issues and policy

14:00-14.15 Welcome address by the moderator

Anders Jacobi, Danish Board of Technology, CIVISTI project leader and moderator

14:05-14:15 Welcome address by the hosts of the workshop

*Domenico Rossetti di Valdalbero, DG Research and Innovation, European Commission
Robby Berloznik, Institute Society and Technology from the Flemish Parliament*

14.15-14.30 Presentation of the CIVISTI concept and methodology

Lars Klüver, Danish Board of Technology

14.30-14.35 Reflection on participation in the CIVISTI project by a representative of the Flemish CIVISTI citizen panel

Tom Laperre

14.35-14.55 Presentation of the CIVISTI results

Anders Jacobi, Danish Board of Technology, CIVISTI project leader

14.55-15.30 Reflection on the CIVISTI results by a panel of policy makers + Q&A on the CIVISTI results

Phillipe Galiay, DG Research and Innovation, European Commission

Perla Srour-Gandon, DG Research and Innovation, European Commission, CIVISTI project officer

15:30-16:00 Coffee break

16:00-17:30 Second session: Citizen consultation in defining future science and technology issues and policy

16:00-16:25 What is the added value of citizen consultations?

Lucien Hanssen, Deining Societal Communication

16:25-16:45 Outside reflections on the CIVISTI concept

Kim Oestrup, IBM

16:45-17:00 Reflections on the CIVISTI concept by members of the Scientific Advisory Panel

Philine Warnke, Fraunhofer-Institute for Systems and Innovation Research

Attila Havas, Hungarian Academy of Sciences

Luis Valadares Tavares, Technical University of Lisbon

17:00-17:30 Q&A on the CIVISTI concept and future applications

17:30-18:30 Reception + mini exposition