

Brief description CIVISTI experience

Tom Laperre

Brussels, 24th January 2011

Motivation

- Challenge
- View the other side of the policy making
- Responsibility
- Opinion of other participant to certain developments

Approach

- Professional guidance
- Informal
- Creative
- Group work
- Individual

What's interesting on the CIVISTI project?

- Forced to think about the future
- Across border thinking
- Participation of European citizens
- Good monitoring
- Professional and thorough approach
- Europe thinks about the future, Vision

Did CIVISTI change my opinion of the European policy?

- YES!
- I hadn't expected such a commitment to future and such a commitment to the evolution of that future
- Surprised in a positive sense

Expectations about the results

- Systematic implementation in our daily life, e.g. universal loading point electric cars
- Starting discussions about the future of our kids (and even their kids) on European level
- Uniformity

Message to the policy makers

- Keep on working this way!
- Satisfying and comfortable feeling the EC looks further than the next few years

CIVISTI

- Thank you for your attention
